6 Senators To Probe McCarthy's Conduct

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 75-12 vote of the Senate last night consigned to a special bipartisan committee a censure move aimed at Sen. McCarthy and evidently signaled a lengthy new investigation of the Wisconsin Republican's conduct.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, predicted appointment by Vice President Nixon "within 48 hours" of a six-member inquiry committee charged with sifting nearly 50 overlapping charges against McCarthy, the Senate's controversial investigator.

In the face of a setback in his efforts to force an immediate showdown on the censure issue, McCarthy called for "morning, afternoon and evening sessions" of the group to draft a speedy report.

"All I want is a vote by the Senate," he declared.

The Senate's vote sent to the special committee a censure motion by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), which Flanders punctuated by reading a list of 33 counts against McCarthy, plus six specific accusations against McCarthy by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), seven similar charges by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), and proposals for study of any charges in the Senate's investigating rules.

At the demand of Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.), Knowland amended his motion to call for a progress report from the group before Congress adjourns, perhaps in two weeks.

The majority leader said if the committee finds it can't complete its investigation by then, the Senate will have to decide whether it wants to stay on in Washington to await a final report while House members go home.

Forty Republicans, 34 Democrats and Morse voted for Knowland's proposal to set up the special committee, thus breaking through the tangle that had kept the Senate bogged down.

Three Republicans—Sen. Cooper (Ky.), Duff (Pa.), and Flanders—voted against the resolution, as did nine Democrats—Sens. Fulbright, Chavez (NM), Douglas (Ill), Hennings (Mo), Hill (Ala), Humphrey (Minn), Lehman (N.Y.), Magnuson (Wash.) and Monroney (Okla.).

These 12 generally argued that the Senate should vote on the question of censuring McCarthy without any further inquiry.

While McCarthy himself voted "present" on the rollcall, his supporters joined in the move to set up a new investigation which seems likely to keep him busy for some time answering questions about his conduct of investigations, his personal finances and his attacks on other senators, government officials and former officials.

He said he saw no reason why it would be necessary to hear more than about eight witnesses, himself and seven senators who have assailed him. He named these as Fulbright, Lehman, Hennings, Monroney, Flanders, Cooper and Morse.

Of the senators he named, all except Cooper and Fulbright said they would be glad to testify under oath.

Fulbright said that there is "no limit" to the number of witnesses McCarthy may seek to call. Hennings predicted a "donnybrook." Monroney said the Senate was in error in handing the issue to a committee "in the hope that it will go away."

Maurice Rosenblatt, campaign director for the National Committee for an Effective Congress, which Flanders acknowledged authored the 33 counts he read against McCarthy, said that "unless the special committee is very carefully selected it will end up either thoroughly intimidated or completely whitewashing McCarthy."

The committee describes itself as a group working for the election to Congress of "liberal" members of both major parties.

Flanders' charges included such accusations as that McCarthy permitted his investigations subcommittee staff to conduct itself in an "insolent manner."

McCarthy challenged Flanders' charge that a member of the Investigations subcommittee staff had investigated Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.), one of the senators who took part in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

McCarthy said he had "no information in any way, shape or form that would indicate even remotely there could be any investigation of Sen. Jackson."

When Flanders acknowledged he got his information about the incident from a newspaper account, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said the senator was indulging in "the same things of which you accuse the senator from Wisconsin. I'm amazed."

"So am I," said Flanders and he added, "I am amazed that a senator with the experience of the senator from Indiana would pay no attention to what is in the newspapers."

TRUCE VIOLATION CHARGED

Jeffersonville Police Chief Is Jailed After Spectacular Shooting Scrape

Former Police Chief William M. Holford, 57, of Jeffersonville, is in the Fayette County jail with his bond fixed at $10,000, on a charge of shooting to kill Paul Rittenhouse, 30, of near Jeffersonville.

The shooting took place in the western edge of the village in front of the school building about 4:50 P. M. Monday, when Holford allegedly fired three shots at Rittenhouse before he seized the gun and wrested it from him.

Sheriff Orland Hays was called into the case soon after it happened and placed Holford under arrest on the shooting "to kill charge" filed by Rittenhouse.

Taken before Justice of the Peace C. R. Robinson, Holford entered a plea of guilty to the charge. He was held to the grand jury, his bond was set and he was brought to the jail here in custody of Sheriff Hays. He will remain in jail until bond is furnished, or the grand jury meets to take up his case.

During his hearing before Justice Robinson, Holford was quoted by Sheriff Hays as threatening Rittenhouse, by saying: "I'll get you yet for breaking up my home."

According to Sheriff Hays, Rittenhouse had been taking several persons to and from work in Dayton where Rittenhouse also is employed.

With Rittenhouse at the time of the shooting, enroute home from Dayton, were Holford's wife and two young men of Jeffersonville, whose names were not learned immediately by the sheriff.

It seems that when Rittenhouse reached Jamestown enroute home, Holford was there in his car and followed the Rittenhouse car into Jeffersonville.

At the western edge of the village, Holford turned on his siren, halted the Rittenhouse car and, getting out of his car, he took his blackjack and broke a window of the Rittenhouse car. Rittenhouse then stepped from his car.

Holford is said to have pulled his 32 calibre pistol and started shooting at Rittenhouse. All of the shots went wild and Rittenhouse seized the gun and wrested it from Holford.

Rittenhouse sustained a severe powder burn on his hand when

But Actions Said Too Minor To Justify War

Red China Gets New U.S. Protest Against Downing Of Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today sharply accused the Communists of violating the Korean armistice, but he said the violations were not serious enough to justify resuming the war.

Dulles also disclosed that a new protest has been sent through Britain to Communist China over the loss of three American lives in the shooting down of a British airliner almost two weeks ago off Hainan Island.

Dulles said, on another Far Eastern question, that United States warships and airplanes would protect Formosa against any enemy attack, but America has made no decision to enter into an alliance with the Chinese Nationalist government there.

As for Southeast Asian defense arrangements, Dulles said he hoped decisions would be made in a week or 10 days on the time and place for holding a conference on conclusion of a defensive alliance.

DULLES TOLD questioners he could not go into detail on the latest U. S. protest over the shooting down of the British airliner. But he said the main U. S. argument is that Red China is completely wrong in arguing that because the aircraft was British the United States government does not have a claim to present on behalf of the damages suffered by its own citizens.

The Korean truce situation came in for detailed discussion. It has been dramatized in recent days by the visit here of South Korean President Syngman Rhee who has demanded an end to the neutral nations' supervisory commission which has kept representatives of Communist governments in South Korea.

The United States, Dulles said, would be sympathetic to seeing the commission wiped out.

Under Indian chairmanship its members are Sweden, Switzerland and two Communist governments, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Dulles said the nations which fought the Communists in Korea have discussed the possibility of ending the commission because of the activities of the Communist members.

Dulles said the situation respecting the armistice supervisor is: In the north the Communist high command, under the armistice terms, is supposed to let members of the armistice commission—meaning the Swiss and Swedes who are important to the U. N. command—see what goes on at ports of entry designated in the agreement.

However, they have circumvented the armistice agreement by moving materials through routes which use other ports of entry into Korea and they deny the Swiss and Swedes opportunity to visit such points.

Mighty Atlas Felled By 'Girl'

CHICAGO (AP)—Morris Shapiro, 200-pound wrestler known as the Mighty Atlas, said he was no match for a 119-pound brunette.

Shapiro, defending himself on a disorderly conduct charge brought by Mrs. Shirley Karam, 29, displayed two snapshots yesterday showing a deep scratch on his arm.

He said Mrs. Karam charged him after he flicked ice water on her bare back while she was sunning herself on a Chicago beach.

"My, my, it looks like you suffered more in this fight than in all your previous engagements," remarked Municipal Judge Casimir Cwiklinski as he fined Shapiro $25.

Two Fishermen Drown In Mishap

ZANESVILLE (AP)—Two young fishermen drowned early today when their plywood rowboat tipped over in the Muskingum River six miles south of here. A third swam about 75 feet to safety.

George Tharp, Jr., 26, of Roseville and William McGilton, 19, of Canfield drowned in more than 12 feet of water. William Ridenour, 20, of Somerset made it to shore and notified authorities who recovered the bodies. Ridenour said the boat, apparently top-heavy, tipped when Tharp leaned out the front end to place a trotline in the water.

County Commissioners Defer Decision On the Sugar Creek Project

The fate of the proposed 15 mile improvement of the Sugar Creek stream bed, by dredging, cleanout and grubbing away underbrush and debris, now rests in the hands of the three Fayette County commissioners, Robert Cockerill, Ralph Minton and Clifford Hughes.

After more than two hours of explanations, arguments and freely expressed opinions, in the final hearing on this project in the common pleas court room at the Court House Monday afternoon, with 50 or more property owners and their attorneys present, the county commissioners, by unanimous vote, terminated the hearing after every one interested had had opportunity to state his position.

THE COMMISSIONERS said they would study a transcript of all the evidence submitted and the opinions expressed (all taken down by the court reporter, Mildred Smith), and indicated they would make a decision on whether to authorize the improvement at a later date, no time being designated.

While a majority of the landowners who spoke briefly, opposed the improvement as now set up, there were many others who made definite their position favoring the project. One man declared that he would favor it if it cost much more than the present estimate shows.

There was no bitterness or unpleasant verbal encounters during the hearing, which was carried on in an orderly and well organized way. Most of those present, however, indicated a strong attitude either for or against the project.

OBSERVERS GAINED the impression that most of those present did not seriously object to some type of improvement along general lines suggested, but the opposition voiced dealt largely with what some declared they considered inequities in connection with the estimated assessments, which in total amount of approximately $50,000 including the grubbing out of weed and brush growth along the creek banks.

Several of those present expressed the view that they did not believe all the acreage which would benefit, had been listed among the assessments.

One or two of the landowners present also questioned whether the village of Jeffersonville was being assessed its proper share of the cost. It was explained that the assessment against Jeffersonville on the engineer's estimates was approximately between $4,900 and $5,000 and has been made on what was thought to be a proper basis, valuations and benefits being taken into consideration.

Jeffersonville has some difficult drainage problems, and it has been reported, has been determining costs of installation of a sewage system and disposal plant, but many property owners there object to the high cost of such an improvement which is said to be more than a quarter of a million dollars. A considerable amount of relief, could be obtained for the village, it was said, if the Sugar Creek improvement would prove of benefit in the Jeffersonville drainage problems.

WHILE THE COUNTY commissioners did not announce any date when they would be able to make a decision, it was made clear, through questions and answers, that the open hearings on proposed assessments were now terminated, but that any further action by the commissioners would be made known in open meeting which any person interested would be at liberty to attend.

The hearing Monday afternoon was opened by President Robert Cockerill of the board of commissioners who asked County Auditor Ulric Acton, clerk of the board, to read the original petition seeking the improvement also the official record of each action taken in past proceedings regarding this project, up to the present time.

Action also read petitions of remonstrance and such other official protests as had been filed with the board.

County Engineer Charles P. Wagner then followed with an explanation of the improvement and related how the assessments had been set up. He said that any errors discovered either as to acreage benefited or otherwise, could be adjusted whenever such mistakes in calculation were found.

Veteran GOP Congressman Faces Stiff Election Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—A veteran congressman's fight for his political life today stood out in listless primary elections in Michigan, Kansas, West Virginia and Missouri.

Rep. Dewey Short, Missouri Republican and chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, faced a stiff challenge from State Sen. Noel Cox.

Short, a House member for 22 years, was seen getting a boost, however, from yesterday's White House decision to extend federal drought aid to some southwest Missouri counties.

Otherwise, there were no major contests on the day's slate and light balloting was forecast.

Candidates for the U. S. Senate will be named in Kansas, Michigan and West Virginia, but no incumbents faced serious threats. And only 17 of the 41 House members seeking renomination in the four states had primary opposition.

ELECTION OF candidates for governor were on in Michigan and Kansas.

Senators Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) and Matthew Neely (D-W.Va.) did little campaigning against what they viewed as light opposition. Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy Committee, was unopposed for renomination.

Ferguson's November opponent, Democrat Patrick V. McNamara, was left without opposition by the recent death of former Sen. Blair Moody. McNamara is a former Detroit city councilman.

Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, seeking a third term, also was unopposed. But four GOP candidates vied to oppose the Democratic governor in November.

Rated as having about even chances were State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary and Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner. The fourth

Police Press Questioning Of Dr. Sheppard

LA (AP)—Police fired a new series of questions at Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today, but the osteopath continued to balk at discussing many details surrounding his wife's slaying.

Homicide detectives, beginning their interrogation, said the 30-year-old prisoner appeared worried at times.

He refused flatly to view a picture taken of his wife, Marilyn, 31, shortly after she was found hacked to death in her bed July 4.

Detectives said Dr. Sheppard still insisted he was innocent and that his stock answer to many questions was: "On advice of counsel I can't talk about it."

His attorney, William Corrigan, noted criminal defense attorney, has repeatedly urged him not to talk to police.

A full report is expected later today on a physical examination given the doctor.

HANDCUFFED and garbed in prison denim, the 30-year-old osteopath was taken last night to City Hospital, where his orthopedic neck brace was removed and four doctors examined him.

Police Chief Frank W. Story claimed afterward that there "was nothing seriously wrong" with Sheppard, as determined by the examination. The chief said it did not include psychiatric tests.

The prisoner, whose attorney previously had barred a hospital check up, made no protest about the examination, Story said.

He added that Sheppard had complained of neck pains yesterday morning, and when jail officials asked for an examination, "we arranged to have it done by experts."

Called in by police were Dr. Spencer Braden, a police department neurosurgery consultant; Dr. Harry Slade, assistant neurosurgeon at City Hospital; Dr. Alvin W. Tramer, acting chief of orthopedic service there; and Dr. George P. Greene, police surgeon.

Meanwhile, strange-looking lights flickered at the sprawling suburban home where Sheppard's pregnant wife was found in her bed, clubbed to death by 25 bone-deep blows.

Crime experts, using infrared and ultra-violet lights, picked through the lakefront house seeking blood stains and other clues.

Sheppard has told police he was injured and knocked out twice in fights with his wife's murderer. Since then he has frequently worn a white leather and metal orthopedic collar.

Paris-To-New York Airline Crashes

PRESTON, Conn. (AP)—A four-engine Paris-to-New York Constellation with 37 persons aboard crashed and burst into flames on a rain-sodden farm today. None was reported killed, but some were injured.

The plane was in contact with control towers at Hills Grove, R.I., State Airport and the Quonset Naval Air Station and reportedly informed personnel at those places the ship was "running out of gas."

Canton Offering Comic Book Swap

CANTON (AP)—To help rid Canton of objectional comic books, the city for two days will swap a $1 book for any 10 crime and horror comic books.

"Operation Book Swap" will be held Sept. 6 and 7 at the Stark County Fair. After that, copies of the $1 books will be featured in downtown news stands in an effort to squeeze out the demand for the wrong kind of comics.

Drought Aid Tapered Off By Ag Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal aid being offered farmers in drought-plagued areas is less liberal this year than last.

Under an assistance program announced yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, eligible farmers may buy corn, oat, barley and grain sorghums at cut-rate prices. This grain will be used to help them maintain foundation herds.

Corn and wheat were offered for such a purpose last year, but at somewhat lower prices than those announced for the current drought emergency.

Under the new program, eligible farmers will be able to buy the designated livestock feed grains through their regular feed dealers at prices 60 cents per 100 pounds below current market levels.

That means a government subsidy of about 34 cents a bushel for corn. At current average farm prices, corn would cost the farmer about $1.16 a bushel. Last year, corn was offered at $1 a bushel.

Under last year's program, wheat was offered at $1.10 a bushel. But wheat is not being subsidized for drought use this year. The emergency drought relief prices this year would average, at least price quotations, about 48 cents a bushel for oats, about 71 cents a bushel for barley and about $1.60 per 100 pounds for grain sorghums. A limited quantity of oats was sold for drought use last year at 50 cents a bushel.

Grasshopper Opens Letter, Is Claim

SAVANNAH, Mo. (AP)—The Savannah post office forwarded a letter marked "Opened by Grasshopper."

It seems a rural carrier picked up the letter from a box on his route and discovered a grasshopper had chewed around the top and sides of the letter. He had to use tape to reseal the letter so made the notation on it.

State Agents Raid Film Showing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today reported the arrest in Canton of a ring accused of producing a lewd film shown throughout Ohio.

The governor said Stark County Prosecutor John Rossetti acted in cooperation with state liquor agents who viewed the film at a Canton stag party. The governor said a deputy sheriff who accompanied the agents refused to interfere with the showing.

Gov. Lausche termed it the first instance in which a ring producing and showing lewd films ever had been apprehended in the state.

Health Leader Dies

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Rufus T. Kennedy, 66, of Columbus died here last night. He was president of the Ohio Assn. of Public Health Sanitarians in 1952-53.

John Fisher, Top Newsmen, Dies In Columbus At Age 80

COLUMBUS (AP)—John W. Fisher, one of Ohio's best-known newspapermen, died in his home here early today.

Fisher, 80, began his career as a newspaper carrier at the age of 12. At the time of his death he had been a member of the Dayton Daily News' Columbus bureau more than 30 years. In the years between, he had been a printer's devil, an editor and a publisher.

His only break from the newspaper business in that time was the three terms he spent as city clerk and one term as mayor of Diephos.

After a stint as paper carrier, the Allen County farmboy was given a job in the printshop of the Lima News. At 16, he became Delphos correspondent and later city editor of that paper.

He edited the Wapakoneta Daily News, the St. Marys Independent and the old Lima Daily Herald. For a while, he turned publisher, operating his own paper in Manitou Springs, Colo., before the turn of the century. At one time he also owned a semi-weekly in Ohio.

Most of his career was spent covering politics and government. He reported activities of the administrations of half a dozen Ohio governors—from Vic Donahey to Frank J. Lausche—and every General Assembly since 1919.

On the national scene, he covered party conventions in Cleveland, New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Fisher's dignified approach to political reporting brought him comment from Gov. Lausche:

"He is a typical representative of the newspaperman who commands great respect in the community in which he lives. Quietly and without pretense he attends news conferences. He poses searching questions but never with the specific purpose of creating em-

Rhee Presses Plea For War Against Reds

NEW YORK (AP)—Throughout a day and night crowded with honors, South Korean President Syngman Rhee repeated dark prophecies of an inevitable showdown between the free world and the Communists.

Standing in a drizzling rain before City Hall yesterday, after a ticker-tape parade and praise by city officials for a lifetime dedicated to freedom, he sounded the day's first warning.

"War must come soon and it is necessary that the United States, champion of the free nations of the world, be saved from a terrible catastrophe," he declared. "The later it comes the more terrible it will be."

Again at Columbia University, where he received an honorary doctor of laws degree, he warned:

"We are still engaged in a losing battle with the Communists. If we continue as we are now, we are fighting a losing battle. Don't back down. To retreat, to back down, means disaster."

In the evening at a dinner in his honor attended by 1,500 people, he renewed the plea he made to Congress last week for American backing in an attack against the Communists in Asia.

To take the offensive now, he said, would give the free world a chance to "stop the Communists and actually push them back."

Med-O-Pure Blast Injures Two Men

Explosion of an ammonia tank at the Med-O-Pure Dairy plant Tuesday morning injured two men.

Arthur Osborn and Hilbert Meyer both of Washington C. H., were rushed to Memorial Hospital in the Kirkpatrick ambulance immediately after the accident. They were treated for inhalation of ammonia. The hospital released Meyer to his home. His condition was not known, pending examination by his physician.

Osborn was placed in an oxygen tent and hospital authorities listed his condition as "fairly good."

The ammonia tank was part of the refrigerating unit used in making ice cream. Meyer, a company official, said a possible explanation of the explosion was failure of the safety valve on the tank.

Mrs. Addie Coe Smith Funeral Service Held

Final tributes were paid to Mrs. Addie Coe Smith at funeral services at 3 P. M. Monday in the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Rev. Russell Kneisley, pastor of the church, conducted the service. He read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read a memoir.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kneisley and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter sang "Saved by Grace," and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

The pallbearers, who also took care of the floral remembrances, were Floyd Burr, Lester Taylor, Harry Reynolds, Charles Hawk, Marvin Curtin and Ray Hawk.

Interment was in the Hidy Cemetery.

Funeral Service Held For William Morgan

Funeral services for William Morgan were conducted at 10 A. M. Tuesday at the Gerstner Funeral Home by Rev. Clinton Swengel, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

Jeff Shooting Scrape

The gun was discharged while he was wrestling it from Holford.

Rittenhouse then drove into Jeffersonville, it seems, and Holford deputized Lawrence Sharrett to arrest him and place him in jail. After Sharrett had locked up Rittenhouse, he notified Sheriff Hays.

Sheriff Hays, upon reaching the town and learning the particulars of the affair, demanded the release of Rittenhouse who told him he wanted to file the shooting to kill charge against Holford.

Unable to locate the keys, Mayor Russell Mitchell cut away the outer lock of the jail and released Rittenhouse. He was accompanied to the office of Justice Robinson by Sheriff Hays, and filed the charge.

Sheriff Hays then arrested Holford, took him before Justice Robinson, where he pleaded guilty to the charge and made threats of "getting" Rittenhouse.

Mayor Mitchell relieved Chief Holford of his badge and position of chief and Sheriff Hays took possession of Holford's gun used in the shooting.

It seems that Holford was appointed chief of police by Mayor Mitchell, with the sanction of council, and was holding the office provisionally for six months.

Inasmuch as the six months was not up and the appointment was of a temporary nature, Mayor Mitchell promptly dismissed Holford from the position.

In the meantime, assistant chief John Dunn is filling the position of chief for the town.

The shooting caused considerable excitement in the town. Workmen at the school building said one of the bullets fired by Holford whizzed near them.

One of the bullets went into the surface of the road. The other could not be located.

It is understood that Holford has retained Attorney Reed M. Winegardner to represent him and is endeavoring to furnish bond for his release from the county jail.

Fixup Fund Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has asked Congress for $25 million to repair merchant-type vessels now in the national defense reserve fleet.

A COUPLE OF THRILLERS have been booked for Wednesday and Thursday at the Fayette Theater here. One of them is "I, the Jury," a picturization of one of Mickey Spillane's bizarre stories, starring Biff Elliott as Mike Hammer, and the other is "The Miami Story," about crime syndicate in America's winter playground, with Barry Sullivan, Luther Adler, John Baer and Adele Jergens in the leading roles.

2 Defendants In Defiance Church Fuss Change Sides

DEFIANCE (AP)—The lineup of contending parties in the St. Paul Methodist church controversy here was changed somewhat today in court developments.

Two members of the church's official board, Mrs. Paul H. Underhill and Miss Gertrude Hoffman, filed answers in common pleas court asking to be made parties to pleas of the plaintiff.

They had been named along with 49 officers of the church and Joseph C. Richards, as defendants in an injunction suit filed by the board of trustees of the Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, District Supt. Kenneth S. Learey of Van Wert, and the Rev. Robert B. Weaver, pastor of the church.

The injunction, among other things, asked that the church's business manager and former pastor, Richards, and officers of the church be enjoined from interfering with Rev. Mr. Weaver in holding religious and other services. The injunction also asked that the church parsonage, now occupied by Richards, be handed over to Rev. Mr. Weaver along with keys to the church.

Mrs. Underhill and Miss Hoffman said in their answers they did not approve of actions taken by the officers of the church.

Meanwhile, three others of the 49 officers named in the injunction filed motions in which they asked that their names be withdrawn as defendants because they had resigned church offices in writing and their positions filled by others. The three were Mrs. Fred Brown, Miss Etta Brown and Mrs. Claude W. Henkle.

Visiting Judge Eugene R. McNeill of Van Wert has the injunction action under consideration.

Grain Markets

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains except soybeans, rebounded from early weakness and went above previous closing prices on the Board of Trade today. Soybeans reduced extreme losses but remained well below yesterday's finish.

Youth's Part in Fair Summarized

THESE CHIC YOUNG LADIES are modeling the clothes with which they won 4-H awards in the Junior Fair style review. They are (left to right) Beverly Allen, complete outfit; Nancy Reno, school dress; Joan Little, tailored dress; Carolyn Crago, sports outfit; Jeanne Cupp, dress-up gown; Linda Halliday, easy-to-make cotton and Shirley Carter, complete outfit.

Now that the 1954 Fayette County Fair has passed into history and things are beginning to settle back down to normal, a summary of the part the community's youth played in the exposition has been prepared with the help of the Extension Service which directs the 4-H activities.

Most of this has appeared in print in the Record-Herald during the hectic days of Fair week, but some of it is coming to light now for the first time.

Sue Christopher, of the Busy Beavers, was selected the Outstanding 4-H Club Girl for 1954, and received the Val R. McCoy trophy. This trophy is considered to be the best ever given in any competition at the Farm County Fair in any year.

Bill McFadden was selected the Outstanding 4-H Club Boy and received the beautiful Albers Company trophy from Herbert Reese, manager of the Albers Super-Market in Washington C. H.

Sue Riley of the We-Dood-It club was selected for the Senior Health Girl award and Danny Schleicher of the Madison Feeders was selected the Senior Health Boy. These winners received plaques from Hidy's Service Station.

Jane Belt was selected the Junior Health Girl and Jerry Hoppes of the Junior Health Boy. They received trophies from the Pennington Bakery.

Outstanding 4-H Club Secretary is Martha Jane Walls of the Jeff Jolly Homemakers Club. She received a trophy from the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Joy Lucas was selected the outstanding 4-H Club News Reporter and received a plaque from the Record-Herald Newspaper.

Donald Creamer of the Ambitious Farmers of '54 received the Vegetable Gardening Trophy presented by the Farmers National Farm Loan Association and Jerry Hoppes of the Twin Oak Twigs 4-H Club received the Flower Gardening trophy.

Jo Davis of the Modern Misses received the first aid trophy from the Fayette County Medical Association.

The 4-H Demonstration Awards were presented by A. E. Weatherly, manager of the Dayton Power & Light Co. here.

The winners in the agricultural demonstrations were: Eldon Smith in the senior individual, with David Pettit receiving second place. Sue Riley and Patricia Scott received first place in the senior team competition and Ruth Burton and Donna Lou Rife received second place.

Jerry Hoppes received first place in junior individual competition and Dick Hall received second place. Rosalyn Marting and Bill Riley received first place in the junior team demonstrations. Frankie Sexton and David Garringer received the second place award.

Gen Gustin of the Wayne's Progressive Farmers and the Washington C. H. FFA Chapter, received

Liquor Agent Plans Appeal On Dismissal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Liquor Director Anthony A. Rutkowski said today a "missing" enforcement agent will appeal his dismissal.

The agent, John L. Kocivar of Cleveland, disappeared during inquiry into a reported shakedown of permit holders to avoid money charges of violating liquor regulations.

Rutkowski said Kocivar had notified the Ohio Civil Service Commission he would appeal his "automatic resignation."

Kocivar, former Canton - Portsmouth district supervisor who also worked in Toledo, was separated from his job for being absent without leave for more than 10 days. He had asked sick leave but left before officials could act on it.

Edward J. Allen, liquor enforcement chief, said he received a letter from Kocivar, postmarked from Cleveland July 29, telling of Kocivar's plans to appeal.

The office of the Civil Service Commission said it could not confirm the appeal until members returned after the weekend.

Both Rutkowski and Allen said they did not know Kocivar's whereabouts. He has been variously reported in Michigan and Cuba.

Ruling Is Made

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled today that public cemeteries outside municipalities are owned and controlled by township trustees. Exceptions: religious and benevolent societies, incorporated companies and associations and authorities of municipal corporations.

July Rainfall Was Somewhat Below Normal

Precipitation So Far This Year Near Normal Mark

Rainfall in July was 2.83 inches or .91 of an inch below normal, according to the monthly summary compiled by U. S. Weather Observer, Coyt A. Stookey.

Normal precipitation for the month is 3.74 inches. However during June the rainfall here was 5.51 inches, or 1.03 inches above normal.

So far this year total precipitation here has been 34.85 inches, compared with 25.47 inches average, or only .62 of an inch below normal rainfall, which is considerably more rain than has fallen in most of the state this year.

Rain, which started around 1 P. M. Monday did much toward sending the count up to normal so far this year.

Heaviest rainfall came on July 18, when 1.15 inches was recorded, and the next was on July 20, with 1.02 inches.

Temperatures during the month, as shown by the summary, averaged 1.13 degrees above normal of 74.00 degrees, the mean or average for July having been 75.13.

There were 14 days during the month when the mercury soared to 90 degrees or above, with 102 degrees registered on July 14, and 98 the previous day. Three days showed 96 degrees.

The average maximum temperature was 88.71 degrees, and the minimum average was 61.55.

The only time during the month that the mercury skidded to 50 degrees was on July 9.

5 Colombo Powers To Attend Parley

COLOMBO (AP)—Ceylon's premier, Sir John Kotelawela, said today he will summon the five Colombo powers to sound out their views on Britain's invitation to attend talks in September on a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Kotelawela said the prime ministers of Ceylon, Burma, India, Indonesia and Pakistan would meet in Rangoon. An informed source said India's Prime Minister Nehru already has advised Kotelawela that he probably will not attend the conference.

Administration Program Moves Steadily

Most of us have heard some curb-stone philosophers, right here in our home community, who have rather seriously criticized President Eisenhower. Part of this is due to politics and much of it comes from those who have been giving but little real thought or studious consideration to what the president has done when he took over the "mess" in Washington, D. C.

For some reason there seems to be an effort to spread the idea that the Eisenhower legislative program has encountered very tough going and that only a relatively small part has any chance of becoming law. There has been more talk about setbacks, mostly political propaganda, than about accomplishments.

It would seem clearly to be too much of a task for any president, with a Congress so evenly divided politically as the present one, to completely change a whole national setup brought about by 20 years of New Deal and so-called Fair Deal administration such as this nation underwent under Roosevelt and Truman.

It was obvious from the beginning that no program so all-embracing as that laid down by the president at the start of his administration would be approved in its entirety. Some of the president's friends and followers are of the opinion that he made a mistake in asking so much. But, whether that is true or not, an objective look at the record shows many very important accomplishments.

Jay Hayden, a nationally syndicated columnist, recently discussed what has happened. "Eisenhower is approaching the end of his first full fiscal year in a remarkably strong position. It is not too much to say that Eisenhower's accomplishment in the field of economics adds up to as revolutionary a swing toward industrial freedom and stability as Roosevelt's initial New Deal did in the opposite direction of socialistic government controls."

Mr. Hayden went on to describe a number of the major achievements. Some are highly controversial, of course, and many people will disagree with their wisdom. Regardless of that, the president wanted them and got them. Here is a partial list:

The administration wiped out all price and wage controls. And it did this, as Mr. Hayden observes, "with no sign of inflation, wholesale strikes or other disturbances that were prophesied as resulting from that action."

Government military buying for military purposes has been reduced by $7-500,000,000 in a single fiscal year. Yet employment has been running at higher levels recently than was the case a year ago. In May, the number of employed reached a peacetime record.

Substantial reductions have been made in taxes, from which all individuals and enterprises will benefit in one way or another. Even so, the deficit will be two-thirds less than the Truman estimate.

Though the Senate and House agricultural committees voted down the Eisenhower flexible support proposals, and voted continuance of 90 percent supports, a surprising number of senators from farm states—including Iowa, Kansas, Idaho, Florida and New Mexico—supported the president. Here Mr. Hayden observes, "The avowed purpose of President Eisenhower to cut back farm price supports, hailed earlier as his greatest political danger, shows signs of becoming an election day asset."

Other Eisenhower requests which have been approved include the St. Lawrence Seaway, which had been advocated by every president beginning with Harding without success; increased social security benefits; a national defense bill differing in a number of important respects from prior ones, and extension for a year of the reciprocal trade plan.

That is the record of a stormy and eventful year. Few presidents have obtained so much they wanted in so short a period.

Horse Condemned For Murder

PINE RIDGE, S. D. (AP)—Did you ever hear of a horse being tried for murder?

Jake Herman can recall such an incident in his boyhood on the Pine Ridge reservation here, home of more than 11,000 Oglala Sioux Indians.

"The horse was sentenced to die because he killed my brother," he said.

Jake, who is a member of the executive branch of the tribal council, is he says, "half Sioux and half wild Irish rose—a pretty bad mixture."

He knows the philosophy and political outlook of both the Indian and the white man, and is at home in the culture of either. He went to Carlisle Indian College as a third grade grammar school student at the age of 20, and played right halfback there for three years. Later he tramped around the country for more than 20 years as a Wild West show trick rider and rodeo clown. Then he came back and settled down to ranching on No-Flies Creek near Kyle, S. D.

Tanned and leathery, at 64, he still has the slim grace of a teenage cowboy. He loves most to talk about his childhood such as the time his Indian grandmother handed him the raw heart of a turtle and told him if he ate it he would always be a brave man and a credit to his tribe.

"I ate it, all right; it tasted like liver, only tougher," he said, "but I turned out to be the biggest coward on earth."

In 1902 his father bought a black stallion from a trader. Turned loose on the range, it became vicious. One day the stallion dragged Jake's older brother, George, 18, from the saddle of another horse and kicked him to death.

"My father was very angry," Jake said. "He butchered some cattle, called in the tribe for a feast, and announced he was going to kill the stallion."

"But the tribal chiefs said no, he couldn't do that. The horse had to be given a fair trial. So they picked a jury of seven men to try the stallion."

On what grounds could human beings try an animal? Well, under the old Sioux code there were four great recognized disasters: (1) no food for the tribe; (2) losing an oldest son; (3) the lonely night wailing of a baby that has lost its mother; (4) the return of a brave from a war party with the news that he is the only survivor.

"The jury decided they could try the stallion for violating the second point in the code by causing the death of my oldest brother," said Jake. "They condemned him unanimously. Then they picked the Indian with the worst reputation in the tribe for being cruel to animals and ordered him to ride the stallion to death."

"He rode the stallion as hard as he could for two months but couldn't kill him. Then the jury gave him to another Indian who worked him until he could no longer move. He staked out the stallion, and it finally fell over dead."

"My father then butchered more cattle, called in the tribe again, and held a great celebration feast. He felt my brother had been avenged. It was regarded as simple justice."

Revision of Hearing Procedure

The Jenner Committee has been holding a prolonged series of hearings on the subject of revising current methods of holding congressional hearings or perhaps establishing rules, by legislation, by which all congressional committees will be required to abide. Many senators, representatives and delegates from public organizations presented their ideas before the Jenner Committee and much of it is ripe.

Reading the testimony has been a more than usually difficult chore because few of those who testified had anything constructive to say and I fear that some of them only appeared because they hoped to attract a headline. Some of the suggestions, if adopted, could only have served to prevent hearings from taking place at all. However, Senator Charles Potter of Michigan, who has gained considerable attention by voting with the Democrats in the McCarthy Committee, made a point which is worthy of comment:

"I do not believe that rules in themselves insure an effective, efficient and fair investigation. I have seen committees with lax rules conduct excellent investigations which did not approach the standards expected. We must recognize that the element of personality is an important factor in congressional committees."

This is altogether true because the conduct of a hearing depends entirely upon the chairman, who has great authority if he wishes to use it. When Senator Tom Walsh presided over the committee that investigated the Teapot Dome Scandal, he pushed his committee work forward to a conclusion. His associate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, stood out so that today only Walsh and Wheeler are remembered in connection with this committee. It requires research to recall others on the committee. On the other hand, the Nye Committee was entirely controlled by its staff, which included a large number of Communists. One of the most disreputable committees of the Congress was that headed by Hugo Black, who, nevertheless, became an associate justice of the Supreme Court which so outraged public opinion at the time that President Roosevelt had to deliver his Quarantine speech to take the sting out of the news of Black's appointment.

There can be no question but that the McCarthy Committee, of which Mr. Potter is a member, has been managed entirely by Senator McCarthy with which idea Mr. Potter went along for more than a year. The Democratic members of this committee retired from it for some months, objecting to McCarthy's procedures, but no Republican member of the committee challenged Senator McCarthy's solo management until after January of this year when the White House objected to the Wisconsin Senator's apparent competition for party leadership. This was the essential issue in the recent McCarthy-Stevens hearing, which might more correctly be termed, the McCarthy-Sherman drama.

During the preliminary quarrels which led to the open break between Senator McCarthy and the White House, a proposal was made to the Senator, of which I knew at the time, that in his investigations of government departments, he hold only executive sessions, in secrecy and in silence so far as the public is concerned, and that whatever he learned be placed at the disposal of the White House.

This proposal was rejected, after all, the Committee on Investigations exists by act of Congress to uncover, to disclose, to expose wrongdoing in the executive branch of the government.

Senator Potter has now come up with the same proposal in his statement before the Jenner Committee:

Knowing the chief executive desires wholeheartedly to cooperate with the legislative branch, I believe it would be highly desirable if the president designated a personal representative to receive the findings of investigating committees and act upon them. The committee concerned should then be advised of the action taken. In my opinion, this would unquestionably make for a greater degree of effective cooperation between the legislative and executive branches.

"If the committee is not satisfied with the action taken by the executive branch, it may then proceed with a full scale investigation and hearing."

This means nothing more than the cover-up.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
If the patient who has a coronary heart attack lives through his first attack and the two crucial months that follow, it is believed he has a good chance, in many cases, to live another eight years or more.

The most common type of heart attack that occurs in middle age and old age is the coronary heart attack. In this type of heart condition, a clot forms in the coronary artery that supplies the heart. Blood cannot get to the muscular tissue of the heart and, therefore, part of the muscle dies.

Many people die with their first coronary attack. The most dangerous period is during the first two months following the attack. Recent statistics have shown that the average life span for a person surviving these first two months is eight years.

Young people have a better survival chance. The presence of diabetes or high blood pressure lessens the chances of surviving. Extremely heavy people have a greater tendency toward coronary heart attacks.

Warning Symptoms Of Coronary Attack

Warning Symptoms
A warning of a future heart attack comes, as a rule, with the symptoms of angina. With effort, strain or emotional upset, angina brings severe pain going down the left arm and above the heart. The patient becomes very pale. However, he will usually live longer than the patient who does not have these symptoms prior to an attack.

Of course, all such persons should be under the constant care of their physicians.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Navy Bottles Up Big Venture

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles on Egypt Ray Tucker will write from that country.

CAIRO — The United States Navy has succeeded in bottling up for more than a year a story of American humanitarianism which would—if it had become known generally—have created more good will throughout the Arab lands than several millions of "Stassen money," as foreign aid funds are called here.

The hatchback girl at the Hotel Semiramis knows of it, but Arabians and Americans generally do not. And it took a trip to Cairo for six hard-working Washington newspaper correspondents to learn of it.

Om Kalsoum, the first name meaning "mother" in Arabian, is not even a name to Americans. But, although she is 45 years old and not especially beautiful, she is a legendary figure in every Arabian land, from Algiers to Indochina.

A singer of rare quality and personality, she commands from $1,500 to $3,000 for a personal or radio performance. And, although television is still to be introduced here on the American scale, every bazaar blares out her radio message or music.

POPULARITY —Om Kalsoum, in short, is a combination to the Arab audience of Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Rosemary Clooney and even Willie Mays. She is beloved as a gal who brightens their drab lives with her singing, especially of foreign and classical pieces. She brings the unknown and outside world into their desert tents and Cairo hovels, to the rulers and the ruled alike.

Several years ago, Om Kalsoum became stricken with a thyroid ailment that threatened to end her career. Her illness was the inspiration for the same sort of tragic stories that accompanied the retirement of some American athletic stars.

The ousting of King Farouk, the great lover boy, did not cause half the journalistic fanfare that Om Kalsoum's attack did. The newspapers from her to Calcutta bordered their reports of her suffering with black, mourning lines.

The musical "mother" tried every noted physician, clinic and hospital in Europe and the Middle East, but to no avail. They could neither diagnose nor cure her peculiar form of disease.

Through Jefferson Caffrey, our ambassador to Egypt, and one of the ablest diplomats in the service, Om Kalsoum was transported by the Navy to the skyscraper hospital at Bethesda, Maryland, which F. D. R. himself designed in a broad and general way.

CURED — Om Kalsoum was cured completely by America's finest physicians, private and governmental. She is back again in the singing business, and at the moment is chorusing her way through India. Her friends inform me that she usually winds up her program by singing The Star Spangled Banner, which the people here think to be a sort of a church chant. They like it.

But not a word of this apparent miracle would the Navy permit to be published. Our friends in the Arab world, diplomats and newspapermen, tried to obtain its publication for the effect it would have on so many key nations in the cold war, but the bureaucrats at the Pentagon refused.

Their explanation was that Congress would protest against the spending of this money on an Egyptian "It" girl, even though she is a sort of theatrical saint to hundreds of millions—the cost could not have exceeded $2,000. Om Kalsoum happens to be extremely wealthy. She could probably buy and sell some of America's popular singers, especially as she is probably a smarter trader. All Egyptians excel in that line!

Our diplomats and our politicians, with few exceptions like Caffrey, as I tried to make clear in an earlier article from Cairo, just do not seem to understand the psychology of the numerous nations and peoples we are wooing, and I refer specifically here to Asians and Orientals.

Not to know them well is to keep ourselves unknown and misunderstood. And, I am sorry to say, we are both unknown and misunderstood.

COMMENTED — We think that we are so honest, so decent and so straightforward, in our contest for men's minds with Russia, that nobody can misunderstand or misjudge us. Well, they do.

Informal Event At Country Club Well Attended

An unusually large attendance of members, their families and guests assembled at the Washington Country Club for the informal family night covered dish dinner Monday evening.

The bounteous meal was served from one long table centered with a lovely arrangement of roses, and small tables seated the members and guests in congenial groups for a most pleasant dinner hour.

The remainder of the evening, as usual, was spent in informal visiting, canasta and samba.

The committee for the evening was composed of Mrs. Hazel K. Devins, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath, Mrs. Harold Slagle and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed.

Guests included were little Miss Mary Kathryn Sollars, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. E. Irwin of this city, and little Miss Arvilla Kochensparger of Port Clinton.

Classes Combine For Picnic And Meeting

The combined meeting of the Victoria and Brotherhood Classes of the First Baptist Church was held at the Marion Rife home at Cedarhurst, Monday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter McLean as hosts, with twenty-seven members present.

A bounteous picnic supper was served on the lovely sun porch, and following the congenial supper Rev. Francis T. McCarty was in charge of the devotions.

Later, the classes held separate meeting with Mrs. Nellie Crone in charge of the Victoria Class and Mr. Harry Parrett of the Brotherhood Class.

Following the meeting, Mrs. McLean conducted an interesting quiz program and informal visiting was enjoyed.

Annual Reunion Of Hidy Family Held Sunday

The thirty-first annual reunion of the Hidy family was held Sunday at Washington Park.

A sumptuous basket dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour and during the afternoon a business meeting was held with the old officers being chosen to serve another year who are: Mr. M. C. Ortmann, president; Mr. W. C. Hidy, vice president; and Mrs. Ed Hidy, secretary-treasurer.

Following the business session, communications were read from relatives who were unable to attend and informal visiting was also enjoyed.

Relatives participating in the event were: Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hidy, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hidy, sons, Gary, Lowell, Wayne and Philip, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hidy, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hidy, Miss Mary Lou Shoop, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hidy, children, Rhonda and Barry, Jr., children, Billy, Denney, Stephen and Connie, Mr. Milton C. Ortmann, Mr. Kenneth Hidy, Mr. Floyd Baughn of Washington C. H.

Swisher, William, Lewis, Paul and Hilda Noble, all of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rager of Abetz Junction.

Class Enjoys Annual Picnic

The annual indoor picnic of the MHG Class of the First Presbyterian Church was held in the Church House, Monday evening, with thirty-two members present and several guests invited.

The tempting picnic viands were served from a long table in the dining room, centered with an arrangement of garden flowers which were also used on small tables seating the members and guests for the delightful supper hour.

A brief meeting was held later and was presided over by the class president, Miss Jane Jefferson, which included a donation to the Sidney Home Building Fund, which will be used to add a new wing to the home.

It was also decided to donate a chair to be used in the new chapel at Memorial Hospital, in honor of Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, whose name the class bears.

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, teacher of the class, conducted a takeoff of the television panel show, "What's My Line?" using the various occupations of residents of Washington C. H., which was most interesting, as well as entertaining.

The committee in charge of the planning of the annual event was composed of Miss Drusilla Rodgers, Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. A. Clark Gossard, Mrs. W. E. Klever, Mrs. J. Rankin Paul and Misses Grace and Etta McHenry.

Return Of Earnings Asked In Divorce

ST. LOUIS (P)—Mrs. Florence L. Windisch, in what her lawyer calls a "new approach to the problem of working wives," yesterday filed an amended divorce petition asking her husband to repay the $14,527 she earned as a secretary during their marriage.

She charged her earnings during the marriage "were appropriated by her husband and were used and controlled by him" although she never agreed to such action in writing.

Milton S. Napier, her attorney, said he is proceeding under the Missouri Married Women's Act, which provides a husband may use his wife's earnings only if she has agreed to it in writing.

Piano Students Appear In Joint Recital

Mrs. Marion Gage and Mrs. J. Rankin Paul presented a group of their piano students in a joint recital in the First Presbyterian Church, Monday evening, before a large and most interested audience and decorations in the church were arrangements of garden flowers.

The program opened with duets, "Old MacDonald" and "Andante from the Surprise Symphony," by Patty Cannon and Joyce Cannon; "In Hanging Gardens," by Joyce Cannon.

Joyce Cannon and Jonna Faye Cannon played as duets, "Marching," "The Rainbow," and "Baby Bear," and Jonna Faye Cannon played as a solo, "The Message."

Roger Thompson appeared next playing the nursery tunes, "Lazy Mary," and "Betty and Bill" and Cynthia Foster played, "Air" and "Paper Ships." "By The Sea" was the number played by Gary Burris, and the duet, "Nightfall" was played by Gary Burris and Michael Burris.

Michael Burris played as a solo, "Dancing Gayly," and "Bonnie Blue" was the number by Jan Bailey.

A duet, "My Birthday Party," by Jan and Johnny Bailey was followed with a number, "The Candy Tree," by Johnny Bailey, and "The Little Harpist," by Sandra Hanks. "Dreamland" was the selection by Ronnie Smith, and Linda Beatty played "Fawn in the Snow."

Vivian Geesling was next on the program, playing "The Fairies' Harp," and "The Galloping Huntsman," was played by Patty Bailey.

Wilma Gales' selection was, "Fairy Queen Waltz," and Lorraine Smith played, "Penny Whistle," which was followed with the number, "The Pixie and the Fairy" played by Carol Baker.

Next on the program was Johnny Core playing, "Afternoon of a Faun," and the duet by Gilbert Crouse and Joe Giebelhouse was "Waltz of the Flowers."

Judith McFadden played, "The Elf and the Fairy," and the "Spinning Song" was the title of the selection by Carolyn Haggard.

A duet, "Aria from the Magic Flute," was presented by Peter Hayes and Mrs. Gage, and "Somersaults," was played by Peter Hayes.

Duets, "Wandering," and "Scotch Folk Song," were presented by Carolyn Kay Ritenour and Edna Mae Hoppes, and Katherine Wright played, "Capriccio Espagnol."

Sandra Lee Rose presented two selections, "Prelude—Opus 28, No.

Lady Luck Due For Role In Hambletonian

Stenographer Gets Nod For Tomorrow's 1954 Sprint Of Trotters

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—Dame Lady Luck has had a lot to say about many Hambletonians and the old girl is certain to be present when 16 of the nation's fastest 3-year-old trotters battle it out tomorrow in the $106,830 sulky derby.

Never since the race was inaugurated in 1926 have there been such a classy group of contenders, with at least half a dozen horses given a chance in the pre-race calculations. These are No. 1 trotters, capable of threatening the Hambletonian record of two minutes flat set in 1947 by Hoot Mon.

Drivers and trainers were generally agreed that racing luck will count when the horses get away in the first one mile heat at 2 p.m. Heats will follow every hour until one horse has won two dashes.

Nobody will come right out with a confident claim of victory, but the odds makers are making Stenographer, a fleet bay filly owned by Max Hempf, Camp Hill, Pa., construction man, the favorite. The daughter of Bill Gallon, 1941 Hambletonian winner, she has won eight of her last nine races and she drew the No. 2 post position.

Stenographer will be driven by Del Miller, who steered Lusty Song to victory in the 1950 Hambletonian. Coupled with Stenographer as the Miller Stable entry is Harlan, a son of Bill Gallon. He is listed at 5-2.

"I sure hope he's right," said Miller when advised that Jim Hackett figured Stenographer the toughest opposition. Hackett drives Prince Victor, winner of one division of the Hambletonian Test Stakes at Vernon Downs, N. Y., last Wednesday. Prince Victor, second choice at 3-1, is owned by Sam Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, who also entered Darn Sweet and True Newport in the race.

Others in the field are Cronus, Ardan Homestead Stable, Goshen, N. Y.; Pronto Boy and Darn Safe, Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Du Quoin, Ill.; Ideal Hanover, S. A. Camp Farms Co., Shafter, Calif.; Lord Pick, A. J. Baxter, Davison, Mich.; Newport Dream and Newport Pearl, Octave Blake, South Plainfield, N. Y.; Princess Rodney, Walnut Hall Stud, Donerail, Ky.; Rotary Hanover, Rimouski Stable, Rimouski, Quebec; Runnyede Hatthorn, Benjamin Kempner, Metuchen, N. J.; and Vicki Hanover, Stanley Cooper, Port Jervis, N. Y. Newport Dream was the winter book favorite but the two-year-old champion of '53 went lame this year and only recently returned to racing. Newport Dream was beaten in two heats last week at Vernon Downs by Prince Victor. The latter was clocked in 2:02 and 2:02 1-5.

The trotting classic will be worth $106,830 with the winner receiving $57,581. Helicopter won last year when the purse totalled $117,117.

Antonelli Heads For Triple Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Johnny Antonelli, Milwaukee's gift to the New York Giants, is headed for pitching's triple crown (lowest earned run average, most victories and highest winning percentage) as he sets the National League pace today in all three departments.

Antonelli, acquired from the Braves in a trade last winter, has yielded only 45 earned runs in 182 innings for an earned run mark of 2.23, figures reveal.

The 24-year-old southpaw has won 16 games (most in the majors) and dropped only two for a winning percentage of .889. He has 11 straight victories and has not been beaten since May 21.

First Matches Set Up

2 Golf Tournaments Get Under Way Here

Golf tournaments today are in the spotlight at the Country Club again. But this time the play is from scratch and without benefit of handicaps.

Heading the tournament parade is the one for the club championship, although there is just as much interest and just as much earnestness among the players in the three flights and the women's division.

In the championship flight are the 16 golfers regarded among the best in the club. They were those with the lowest gross scores for the 36 qualifying holes. Ronnie Cornwell, defending champion, qualified automatically. The others who played the qualifying rounds were bracketed in the first flight.

In the championship flight were those who turned in cards of 158 or less. Bill McLean, last year's runner up, failed to qualify. He ran into a streak of bad luck and carded a 169 which put him in the first flight of eight matched.

The other 64 golfers were divided between the second and third flights, according to their ratings.

PAIRINGS for the first matches, which must be played no later than Aug. 8, have been completed by Tony Capuana, the club pro:

Cornwell vs. Marvin Thornburg; Bill Himmelsbach vs. Wayne Shobe; Frank Truitt vs. Ed Vollette; John Elcessor vs. Dick O'Brien; Charles Buxton vs. Dick Korn; Dr. Robert Hagerty vs. George Fitzgerald; Dan O'Brien vs. Bud Dawson and Chuck Cummings.

Cleveland-Yankee Series May 'Retire' Casey Stengel

CLEVELAND (AP)—Casey Stengel has said if his New York Yankees fail to win the pennant this year he ought to get fired.

The high-flying Cleveland Indians can do something about that here tonight when they open a "crucial" three-game series with the defending world champions.

Nobody actually believes Stengel will be dismissed if the Indians dethrone the Yankees. It is quite possible, however, that the 64-year-old manager might call it a career. He has said on more than one occasion that he will retire when the Yankee pennant string ends.

Although only 2 1/2 games behind the Indians, the Yanks are four games behind in the important lost column.

"Those four behind in the lost column is what really hurts," Stengel said last night his team was preparing to entrain for Cleveland. "We've got to cut that down while we got the chance. We may not have many chances later. The lost column is where it counts the most at this stage of the race."

Southpaw Whitey Ford (10-6) was Stengel's choice tonight to oppose the Indians, who will counter with rookie left-hander Don Mossi (4-1).

Both Cleveland and New York were idle yesterday as the major league activities were limited to only three games, one in the National League and two in the American.

In the National, it took the Brooklyn Dodgers 13 innings and 3 hours and 45 minutes to eke out a 2-1 victory over Milwaukee.

In the American League, Washington moved to within half a game of Detroit by trouncing the fourth-place Tigers 11-6. Baltimore left Philadelphia all alone in the cellar, vanquishing the Athletics 10-2.

The Dodger win resulted in the following:

1. It snapped the Braves' winning streak at 10 straight.
2. It ended the Dodgers' losing streak at four straight.
3. It cut the Dodgers' deficit to five games behind the leaders.

Practice sessions hampered by rain were held in Springfield yesterday as about 50 Ohio high school football players warmed up for the annual North-South football game Aug. 13.

New head coach at Wapak. St. Joseph High School is Richard Costello of Toledo. He replaces William Taylor, who resigned. Costello will handle football, basketball and baseball.

Reds Chalking Biggest Slump Of Season

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, losers in six of their last seven outings, are in the midst of their worst batting slump of the season.

Gus Bell, one of the top hitters in the National League all season, has had only three hits in his last seven games. And his lack of power has been catching.

"Bell's a better hitter than that," said Manager Birdie Tebbetts. "He's in a slump that grips individuals, and even entire teams, somewhere along the line. But he'll come out of it."

The centerfielder's average has dropped from .342 to .319 in the last seven games.

Ted Kluszewski, who usually follows Bell in the lineup, has had some hitting success, with nine hits in his last 27 at bats, but those safeties have produced a meager one run. That was on his 29th homer during the four-game series with the Giants.

Tebbetts has tried to shake off the hitting blues with the use of Dayton's Bob Borkowski in the lineup. And while Bob has lifted his average above .300 for the first time, the team hasn't been able to produce the necessary runs. The Reds have played .500 ball in Connie Mack stadium so far this season. Tebbetts selected Bud Podbielan, the righthander with a 6-5 record, for the mound chores to-night against Pirate Hurler Bob Friend.

Tebbetts flew into Cincinnati yesterday to visit his wife, Mary, and their new daughter. They named her Patricia. Their other children are Susan, 3, and Elizabeth, 1.

Edward C. Myers sued the Hillcrest Country Club, near his Los Angeles home, for $8,000 yesterday. Said he has to send his children, aged 4 and 2, to nursery school daytimes and can't use his back yard because it's under constant daylight bombardment by golf balls.

Noren, Snider Pacing Batsman

NEW YORK (AP)—Irv Noren of the New York Yankees should lengthen his already comfortable American League batting lead tonight if he hits Cleveland pitching the way he did when the clubs met in their last three-game set. The left-handed hitting outfielder is batting .350.

In the National League, Duke Snider of Brooklyn dropped five points to .353, but Don Mueller of the New York Giants, his closest competitor, lost one to .343. Snider had eight hits in 28 trips last week and Mueller had 9-for-28.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Filipino Bandits Raid Village

MANILA (AP)—Forty bandits reported to be Communist-led Huk dissidents, raided San Jose, 80 miles north of Manila, last night.

Philippine News Service said the raiders looted about 20 homes and kidnapped a policeman and a civilian.

The outlaws were reported to have distributed leaflets urging the inhabitants to cooperate with them in their "fight against American imperialism."

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy and three-alarm fires have one thing in common: you don't have much time to get bored with them. McCarthy now heads into the third investigation of him by fellow senators in three years. He's mixed up in the third one before the second one is finished.

This probably sets a record for the Senate. No one there in recent memory has taken up so much of the Senate's time. All three inquiries were forced on McCarthy by fellow senators.

But McCarthy, unlike a fire, hasn't been put out yet. At this moment no one can predict where the latest investigation will lead or how long it will last. Weeks, possibly months, more likely.

The first investigation of him—it took 18 months and ended Jan. 2, 1952, with a report which made no recommendations—was inspired by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn), who accused McCarthy of various forms of misconduct. The committee which investigated McCarthy investigated Benton too.

This group was made up of two Democrats — Senators Hennings (Mo) and Hayden (Ariz)—and a Republican, Sen. Hendrickson (N.J.). While they made no recommendations against McCarthy, they accused him of deliberately trying to thwart their work, saying that six times he refused to testify before them. They criticized Benton too, but not for refusing to answer questions.

When Army officials last spring made charges against McCarthy and his staff, and when the senator responded with countercharges, the members of his own Senate Investigations subcommittee decided to look into the case. The public, televised hearings took weeks. That committee still hasn't made its report.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) started McCarthy's latest troubles by demanding the Senate censure him. His accusations were more general than specific and it was decided to create a select committee to look into the various charges which other senators voiced in support of Flanders' move.

It had seemed around Washington a week ago that Flanders' proposal would be "tabled," which is a parliamentary device for shutting off debate and calling for an immediate vote. It seemed certain that the Senate would not vote censure and that if a vote were forced on a motion to table, McCarthy would win. Strangely, none of McCarthy's friends tried to force such a vote.

Since McCarthy wouldn't testify before Hennings' group, he might do the same in this latest inquiry. The Hennings group didn't try to force him, since he's a senator. And the select committee now might not try to force him to answer questions either if he stayed away.

Instead of staying away, he expressed great eagerness to cross-examine the senators who made these latest accusations against him. The select committee will have to decide whether to let him. If McCarthy is permitted to cross-examine, his senatorial accusers no doubt will demand the right to cross-examine him.

That would probably be much rougher than anything McCarthy experienced during the hearings on his row with Army officials. There the government officials and their lawyers never quite forgot he was a senator who should be treated carefully. But when McCarthy tangles with fellow senators, they're all equal.

None of the senators who talked against McCarthy and may testify against him has shown any liking for him.

Before anyone can guess what lies ahead, Vice President Nixon must appoint the three Democrats and three Republicans who will make up the select committee. Then the committee will use up more time deciding on its rules for handling the investigation, whether it needs a staff, who the staff should be, and whether the hearings will be public or behind closed doors.

For a man so free-wheeling as McCarthy, hitherto able to skip nimbly from case to case, calling his own shots, he has been amazingly handcuffed in 1954. The Army hearings took all his time and energy for weeks. The new ones may do the same. Instead of being an issue in the November elections, he may turn out to be a side issue.

Traffic Safety Slogans Wanted

Deadline Saturday
For C of C Contest

Traffic safety slogans, to replace the "Speed Trap" signs on the Chamber of Commerce welcome billboards at the entrances to Washington C. H. on the CCC Highway, have been coming into the Chamber office steadily ever since the slogan contest was announced through the Record-Herald July 24.

But, the new traffic committee wants still more between now and the Aug. 7 deadline.

The slogan should be of no more than six words.

An award of $5 will be made for each of the two considered best by the judges.

About 40 slogans already have been entered in the contest, but the committee hopes many more will come in during the rest of this week.

When the two best have been selected, one or both of them are to be placed over the "Speed Trap" signs that were put up about three months ago.

Joe Peters is the chairman of the new traffic committee appointed by Robert Terhune soon after his inauguration about a month ago. Other members of the committee are L. M. Hayes, Tom Mark and Harris Willis, with Glen Allen, the Chamber secretary.

President Terhune said he had looked over some of the slogan entries and commented that "they have unusually good thoughts" and added that "we feel this is a constructive project."

Carrier Yorktown Joins 1st Fleet

SANGLEY POINT, P. I. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Yorktown arrived in Manila Bay today to join the U.S. 1st Fleet, which has been operating in the South China Sea.

The continued presence here of American carriers, which have been on "fair weather training maneuvers" in this area, is the greatest show of naval strength in Philippines waters since the last war.

The Yorktown replaces the carrier Tarawa, which left here Sunday for the United States.

Commissioners

THE COUNTY engineer's estimate of cost for excavation and extra engineering expenses was reported to be $34,495.08. In addition to this the grubbing out of small trees and brush growth along the creek banks is estimated to amount to approximately $15,000 or $16,000. This latter cost was reported assessed against the landowners where such work must be done on land through which the creek flows. This would make the entire cost of the project approximately $50,000.

The proposed improvement would extend from the Madison County line through Jeffersonville to about one half a mile beyond the point where Route 35 crosses the stream, approximately a total distance of 1.5 miles.

Practically all the landowners proposed to be assessed had seen the amounts assessed against them before the hearing. There were many questions raised by various persons present and explanations were made by either County Auditor Acton or Engineer Wagner.

Among other things mentioned was that any landowners whose assessments showed costs of grubbing on their land along the stream could do this work themselves, if they desired, and their part of such assessment for this work, could be removed from their costs.

Among attorneys present who spoke in behalf of various property owners who had engaged their services, were Richard Rankin and William Junk. Also Attorney R. M. Winegardner, city solicitor for the village of Jeffersonville and Russell Mitchell, mayor of that village, spoke briefly, favoring the project.

Although an unofficial estimate of the expressions, pro and con, on the project showed 31 opposed, 20 favorable and three in doubt, it was said that this did not represent all interested property owners, as a number who could not be present, had indicated favor or opposition either on petitions or by personal contact with officials, previous to this hearing.

At one point toward the close of the hearings Attorney William Junk made a motion to dismiss the petition for the project on the grounds that the total costs were in excess of benefits derived; the commissioners indicated that they preferred to give more study to the proposition and passed a motion made by Cliff Hughes, to defer further action until the board had full opportunity to study all phases of the matter.

Heavy Rainfall In The County

Water Again Passing
Over Dam Here

Rainfall here Monday afternoon and night totaled 37 of an inch, but much of the county received a great deal more. The northern part of the county got an inch or more of rain in some places, according to reports.

The rain, following that of Saturday, when precipitation was 42 of an inch here, did much to continue the development of the corn and soybean crops in the county and keep pasture lands in good condition.

Water, which three days ago had stopped flowing over the dam at the pumping station here, was going over it again Tuesday, with indications it would continue for several days at least without additional rainfall.

Last year, no water was going over the dam after the latter part of July, so the water situation here now is regarded as very satisfactory.

With normal rainfall during August, one of the greatest corn crops in years is looming. The outlook is the same for the soybean crop.

Driver Gets Usual Fine For Offense

Howard Little, 21, Route 3, on a charge of driving while drunk, filed by Sheriff Orland Hays, drew $200 and costs, 10 days in jail and was suspended from driving for one year when taken before Judge R. L. Brubaker in municipal court, Monday.

Little was arrested after his car collided with another car on Route 38, two miles south of Yatesville, Saturday night. Seven passengers were with Little in his car at the time, but none was badly injured.

Police made two arrests Monday. The first was Valdo W. Beedy, city, for running a red light; the other was Marie Katherine Young of Worthington, for too much speed on Columbus Avenue.

Guatemalan Revolt Settled, But Grumbling Continuing

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemala's ruling military junta ordered President Carlos Castillo Armas' private army to disband and go home today, but the action generated rising public resentment. An American Embassy spokesman said there was a possibility of a popular uprising in the capital.

The junta ordered the disbanding of Castillo Armas' armed "liberation army," which sparked the overthrow of Communist-backed President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, after regular army units and military academy cadets had battled the 700 irregulars sporadically for 12 hours yesterday.

Twelve persons were killed and 42 wounded in the battling around Roosevelt Hospital, where Castillo Armas' men were camped on the outskirts of the capital. The fighting, outgrowth of weeks of tension between the regular troops and the revolutionists, mushroomed from a dawn brawl between cadets and members of the president's force.

A cease-fire finally took effect at 6:35 p. m. and the 700 liberation army men surrendered their arms to regular army officers. The revolutionists were ordered to return to their homes.

THE JUNTA ordered a curfew into effect at 9 p. m. and warned that military patrols would take "drastic measures" against any violators.

A spokesman for the American Embassy reported there still was "very great tension" late last night.

Blackburn Will Address Young Republicans

Leo Blackburn, 6th District Republican Congressional nominee, will appear on a panel before the Ohio League of Young Republican Executive Committee in Columbus Saturday, August 7, to map out plans for the Party's youth to aid and assist in the election of Congressional candidates this November.

With Mr. Blackburn will be John E. Henderson, 15th District Republican Congressional nominee, and Bernard Lamb, Field Director of the Republican National Congressional Committee.

Speaking on behalf of their fellow Congressional candidates, Blackburn and Henderson, assisted by Mr. Lamb, will outline a program of activity to be followed by Ohio Young Republicans between now and election day.

Blackburn, a native of Portsmouth, formerly served in the Ohio Senate. Fayette County is a part of the sixth district in which he is the Republican Congressional candidate.

place itself under complete government jurisdiction.

THE AGREEMENT was signed for the government by Maj. Enrique Oliva, a member of the three-man junta; Col. Enrique Close, defense minister; and Col. J. Paiz, undersecretary of defense. Four high officers signed for the army.

The Foreign Office denied rumors that the uprising had been instigated from the Mexican Embassy. Arbenz and more than 300 of the government's leftist and Communist opponents are crammed into the Mexican compound.

Hostility had increased between regular soldiers and Castillo's motley but well-armed band since it moved into the capital last month and set up camp on the outskirts.

The junta president apparently had held his force together as a counter against any move against him from factions within the regular army. There also has been considerable grumbling from supporters of Castillo Armas who felt his followers' role in the overthrow of Arbenz had not been recognized sufficiently.
